About National Dairy Development Board (NDDB)

NDDB is an institution of national importance, founded on the conviction that India's socio-economic progress is intrinsically linked to the development of rural India. Established to promote, finance and support producer-owned and producer-controlled organisations, NDDB has played a pivotal role in strengthening India's cooperative movement.

NDDB's programmes and initiatives strengthen farmer owned institutions and support national policies that are favourable to their growth. Guided by cooperative principles, NDDB has transformed India's rural economy by making dairying a viable and profitable livelihood for millions of dairy farmers, while enabling the nation to achieve self-sufficiency in milk production. Beyond dairying, NDDB continues to support innovative, income-generating activities that ensure sustainable livelihoods for rural communities.

About NDDB Dairy Services (NDS)

NDS is a wholly owned subsidiary of the NDDB. It functions as the delivery arm of the NDDB for field operations relating to promoting Milk Producer Organisations (MPOs) and enhance milch animal productivity, with a special focus on small and marginal farmers, especially women.

By building robust, transparent, and farmer-owned dairy ecosystems, NDS works at the grassroots to ensure fair incomes, inclusive growth, and institutional credibility. From time tested Artificial Insemination (AI) to advanced reproductive technologies such as In-Vitro Fertilisation (IVF) and Embryo Transfer (ET), NDS is reshaping India's genetic improvement landscape through technology-driven productivity enhancement, market-linked solutions, and farmer-centric services. Building on this strong foundation, NDS has also expanded into Agri Value Chain Solutions to establish organised, efficient, and credible market linkages for agricultural commodities, complementing its core milk procurement and services ecosystem.
